FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

APRIL 20, 2008

APRIL IS CHILD ABUSE PREVENTION MONTH

Online Child Safety In June 2000, a study titled “Online Victimization” was conducted for the U.S. Department of Justice. In the study, a national sampling of children found that approximately one in five children had received a sexual solicitation or approach over the Internet in the previous year. One in four children on the Internet had unwanted exposure to naked people or people having sex in the previous year. One in 33 children had received an aggressive sexual solicitation—a solicitor who asked to meet them somewhere, called them on the telephone, or sent them mail, money, or gifts. Today, even more children in the United States are online; undoubtedly, if a national sampling of children was to be interviewed now, these numbers would be even higher. As pervasive and tempting as the Internet can be, it is essential for parents, teachers, and members of the clergy to be knowledgeable and fluent in both the negative and the positive aspects of the Internet. Parents, teachers, and members of the clergy must speak very openly about online child safety issues.

Can You Pass the “Blog Beware” Quiz? Internet blogs and other social networking sites have recently exploded in popularity and in the news. The number of MySpace.com users is currently estimated at more than 67 million. The majority of activity on these and other youth-oriented Web sites is positive. However, we’ve all read stories of how those who would harm children use these sites to lure children and teens into inappropriate discussions. To combat this danger, www.netsmartz.org offers a wide range of Internet safety resources for parents and children. Start by taking the “Blog Beware” quiz. For kids, there’s a related site: www.netsmartzkids.org.

How to Report Inappropriate or Illegal Content on the Internet One of the main reasons that children do not report the inappropriate content they find online is fear of punishment from parents. If you let them know that it is not their fault if they come across an inappropriate site, they will be more willing to come to you when it happens. If your children ever show you a site that contains illegal behavior, such as pornographic images of children, contact your Internet service provider and the CyberTipline at www.cybertipline.com.

For more information about Child Abuse Prevention in our diocese please contact: Katy Beedle Rice 586-1317, cathedraldre@acsalaska.net or Robbie Izzard, Diocesan Victim Assistance Coordinator, 586-2227 ext 25 or robbiei@gci.net

CATHOLIC HOME MISSIONS APPEAL

SUNDAY, APRIL 27TH

The Catholic home Missions Appeal offers Catholics across our country a wonderful opportunity to help fellow Catholics practice their faith in such rugged areas as Alaska, Appalachia, the Deep South, the Rocky Mountain states, the Southwest, Puerto Rico, and island dioceses in the Pacific and Caribbean.

This Appeal is a practical way for our parish to share its faith and resources with the mission Church here at home. Over 95 cents of every dollar donated to the Appeal goes directly to the missions to keep church doors open, to support pastors in their priestly ministry, and to provide basic pastoral services like religious education for children.

Please give generously to assist fellow Catholics here in America. It’s one practical way our parish community can be good stewards of God’s gifts and make a difference.
